DETAILED ACTION

This Office Action is in response to Amendment filed 4/23/04.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-2 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Mizuta (U.S. Pat. 5,687,048).

Regarding claim 1, Mizuta discloses a disk cartridge or housing (figures 1-2) comprising:

a case 2 housing an information recording and/or reproduction disk and a shutter which is installed on the case and selectively opened and closed to accomplish an access to the disk by a recording and/or reproduction apparatus, and a protrusion group 10-25 having a plurality of protrusions each protruding toward the disk, and being formed on an inner wall of at least one of the case and the shutter, and extending linearly radially in parallel from a rotational axis of the disk.

Regarding claim 2, Mizuta discloses that the protrusion group comprises a plurality of protrusions repeating at a predetermined interval in a predetermined pattern (see figure 1).

Art'Unit: 2653

Regarding claim 4, Mizuta further discloses that the protrusion group includes at least two protrusion groups each disposed at an equiangular interval in a direction of rotation of the disk (see figure 1).

3. Claims 5, 34, 41 and 44 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Iwaki (U.S. Pat. 5,969,917).

Regarding claims 5 and 41, Iwaki discloses a disk cartridge or housing (figures 4 and 10-11) comprising:

a case housing an information recording and/or reproduction disk 2 and a shutter 24 which is installed on the case and selectively opened and closed to accomplish an access to the disk by a recording and/or reproduction apparatus; and a protrusion group 22, 23, having a plurality of protrusions each protruding toward the disk and formed on an inner wall of at least one of the case and the shutter, wherein the protrusion group includes protrusion groups arranged in a stepped manner in a radial direction of the disk (see figure 10).

Regarding claims 34 and 44, Iwaki shows that at least one protrusion group having a plurality of protrusions each protruding toward the disk, formed within the case, and being positioned in parallel linearly in the radial direction of the disk (see figure 5, where protrusions 33a and 33b or 34 are in parallel linearly in the radial direction of the disk).

4. Claims 34 and 43 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Leonard et al (U.S. Pat. 4,885,652).

Regarding claim 34, Leonard et al discloses a disk cartridge (figure 1) having an information recording and/or reproducing disk 4 comprising:

Art'Unit: 2653

A case enclosing the disk; and at least one protrusion group 12 having a plurality of protrusions each protruding toward the disk, formed within the case, and being positioned in parallel linearly in the radial direction of the disk (see figure 1).

Regarding claim 43, Leonard et al shows a foreign material filters 10 positioned within the case.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 39-40 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-2, 4-5, 34, 41 and 44 have been considered but are most in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's 7. disclosure. Mizuta (U.S. Pat. 5,850,327) discloses a magnetic disc cartridge; Magneto-optical et al (U.S. Pat. 5,537,281) discloses a flexible disk cartridge; Brock et al (U.S. Pat. 4,626,949) discloses a magnetic record disk.

8. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
